

ISME2017 TOKYO

The 11th International Symposium on Marine Engineering

October 15(Sun)-19(Thu), 2017

Tokyo International Exchange Center, Plaza Heisei, Odaiba-Tokyo, JAPAN

Symposium Website: <http://www.isme2017.jime.jp>

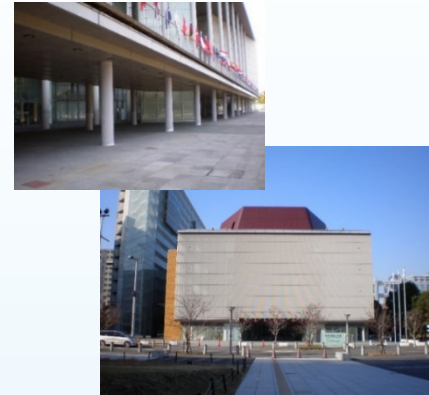

About the symposium :

The International Symposium on Marine Engineering (ISME) is a forum, an exhibition, and consists of technical tours for experts, scholars, and engineers in the field of marine engineering designed to discuss and exchange scientific and industrial knowledge. The purpose of the symposium is to advance the development of marine engineering technology and its applications, and also to discuss the future of marine engineering, focusing on the theme: "Marine Engineering Technology friendly to Environment, effective to Energy Saving and robust to Economy Crisis".

The ISME was first held as ISME TOKYO '73 in 1973, which was organized by the Marine Engineering Society of Japan (MESJ, currently JIME), and was sponsored by several maritime-related industries, universities, institutes, and the Japanese Government. The ISME was recently held in Harbin (China) in 2014, in Kobe (Japan) in 2011, in Busan (Korea) in 2009, and in Tokyo/Funabori (Japan) in 2005. The 11th symposium (ISME2017 Tokyo/Odaiba) will be responsibly setup by the Japan Institute of Marine Engineering (JIME), and will be held at the Tokyo International Exchange Center (TIEC) in Tokyo, Japan from October 15(Sun) to 19(Thu), 2017.

We look forward to welcoming you in Odaiba-Tokyo. We hope that everyone who attends the meeting will have a pleasant stay, mixing social and cultural enjoyments with old and new acquaintances, while becoming familiar with the latest advances in the challenging fields of marine engineering.

International Conference Hall
(Plaza Heisei 3F)

Guests of Honor (tentative) :

Mr. Kitack Lim, IMO Secretary-General
Mr. Ichiro Hao, Maritime Bureau Director-General of MILT
Mr. Koichi Fujiwara, Chairman and President of Class NK
Mr. Motoyoshi Nakashima, Chairman of JSMEA

Mr. Hisashi Hara, President of JASNAOE
Dr. Jane Smallman, President of IMarEST
Dr. Keelsoo Rhyu, President of KOSME

IMPORTANT DATES :

There are 2 ways to submit a paper for ISME2017 TOKYO: 1) to submit an abstract reviewed paper that will be judged for publishing only on abstract reviewing, 2) to submit a full-length reviewed paper that will be peer-reviewed as a full-paper draft after the abstract acceptance. All papers will be presented as extended abstracts in symposium USB, together with uploading to a limited internet space accessible with ID and Password. Accepted peer-reviewed full-length papers will be also included on the internet space. Full-papers may be included in the Journal of JIME for an extra publishing fee, if authors are willing to submit to the journal.

		Abstract review	Full-paper review
March 1, 2017	Submission of Abstract	○	○
March 15, 2017	Notification of Review Result	○	○
March 30, 2017	Submission of Full-paper Draft *	—	○
July 31, 2017	Submission of Extended Abstract	○	—

*The peer-reviewed result of full-paper drafts will be noticed on or before September 15, 2017.

All speakers are requested to pay the registration fee by July 31, 2017.

Advisory Board :

Prof. Alexander N. Minaev (Far Eastern Federal University)
Mr. David Loosley (IMarEST)
Prof. Dr. Jae-Sung Choi (Korea Maritime and Ocean University)
Dr. Cristian Poensgen (Man Diesel & Turbo)
Prof. Chih-Chung Fang (National Taiwan Ocean University)
Prof. Yoo Sang Choo (National University of Singapore)
Prof. Dr. Ketut Buda Artana (Sepuluh Nopember Institute of Technology)
Prof. Dr. Peilin Zhou (University of Strathclyde Glasgow)
Dr. David Gatfield (Former Professor of Warsash Maritime Academy at Southampton Solent University (UK)
Mr. Marcel Ott (Winterthur Gas & Diesel Ltd.)
Prof. Dr. Jens-Uwe Schröder-Hinrichs (World Maritime University)

Prof. Dr. Qun Zheng (Harbin Engineering University)
Dr. Tetsuya Senda (Japan Ship Technology Research Association)
Prof. Dr. Koji Takasaki (Kyushu University)
Mr. Ole Grøne (MAN Diesel & Turbo)
Prof. Jing-Fa Tsai (National Taiwan University)
Mr. Yasuhiro Itoh (Niigata Power Systems Co., Ltd.)
Prof. Dr. Marko Perkovic (University of Ljubljana)
Dr. Pham Xuan Duong (Vietnam Maritime University)
Mr. Juha Kytölä (Wärtsilä Co.)

Mr. Rudolf Westtstein (Winterthur Gas & Diesel Ltd.)
Dr. Ka Shuen Fung (Hong Kong Institute of Vocational Education)

Symposium scope :

- Pollution-Free Systems
- Future Engine Technology and Energy Conversion Systems
- Electric and Electronic Systems
- Safety Systems and Human-Machine Interface
- Advanced Propulsion Systems
- Next Generation Energy Saving, Heat and Fluid Systems
- Maritime Education and Training
- Environmental Conservation
- Future Marine Fuels and Lubricants
- Robotics and Automation Systems
- Operation and Information Systems
- Ship Recycling
- Coastal Ship Systems

Language :

The Symposium will be conducted in English. All abstracts, extend abstracts, and full papers must be written and presented in English.

Exhibition and Technical Tours :

The exhibition will be held at the symposium from Oct 16 to 18, 2017. A detailed announcement will be made on the web-site. Technical tours will be conducted on the last day: Oct 19, 2017. If participants want to take part in the tour, there is an extra fee: 2,000 JPY.

Symposium Venue :

Tokyo International Exchange Center (TIEC), Plaza Heisei. (2-2-1 Aomi, Koto-ku, Tokyo 135-8630, JAPAN)

3 minutes from "Fune-no-Kagakukan" station on New Transit "Yurikamome" line (Shimbashi Station ↔ Toyosu Station)

15 minutes from "Tokyo Teleport" station on "Rinkai" line (Shinkiba station ↔ Osaki station)

Many forms of public transportation provide easy access to TIEC from Narita Int. Airport (about 75 min.), Haneda (about 25 min.), and also from the major local stations of Tokyo (within 30 min.).

Accommodation :

There are many accommodations in Tokyo. The hotel information for easy access to TIEC will be provided on the symposium web-site shortly.
